

Thomas McDonald's Bio:

Thomas McDonald serves as the Chief of Staff & Operations Manager in the Office of the Vice President of Business Affairs and Human Resources at the University Of Arizona. There he oversees communications, strategic initiatives, policies, special events, data & budget reporting, and tactical project oversight (because "he gets things done" just doesn't sound as sweet). However, when asked what a "Chief of Staff" does all day, Thomas often describes his work handling a wide variety of highly-sensitive situations as, "The best, the worse, and the weirdest at the UA". If he bothered to hang credentials on a wall, they would indicate a background based in public administration and music.
